Believes weather Averting causes Of Aurora odors

It has been prophesied that Aurora's nuisance, the tannery odor, will have lost its usual strength this year. According to Gordon Hoffman, chairman of the special sanitation committee that was appointed to investigate the tannery odor, much of the unpleasant smell will have abated this year. Mr. Hoffman said that because of heavy spring rain and snowfalls the water in the creek is higher than it has been for a long time.

usual throngs of Easter worshippers on Sunday when choirs, both junior and senior, presented special Easter

Hydro debenture The Newmarket Lions club Minstrel Show gained another Best vol-To local system

The hydro system in Newmarket is expected to be improved and expanded this year. An estimated $15,000 will be spent on replacing and rebuilding part of the system which will eliminate problems of low voltage which consumers have experienced in the past, according to Ontario hydro officials. Another $26,000 will be spent to instal new meters during conversion to 60 cycle.

Being a conscientious sort, he went to the Workman's Compensation Board so that his hired man would be protected in event of accident. He received, at the best, dubious satisfaction from the board, and several gross of forms to fill out.

There followed a lengthy correspondence by which it was established just what a "few" trees amounted to. In the meantime, having been told that such an operation meant that his hired man fell under the provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Act, he wrote to the office at Barrie and in due course received another several pounds of forms to fill

Reading the forms one night, he saw some fine print which indicated that since it was part of the farm operation, he was exempt from the insurance payments. He wrote the office to that effect. That is quite a laurel that Allen Jackson has won for Newmarket with his prize-winning essay on What Canadian Citizenship Means to Me in the contest sponsored by the Canadian Legion. Allen's essay was judged best in the province by Dr. Dunlop, head of the University of Toronto extension

What adds lustre to Allen's work is that the essay was written under examination conditions. The topic was placed on the examination paper and those who chose to write on that subject had the option of also entering their work in the contest. That Allen could write such an excellent essay under the pressure of an examination greatly enhances his achievement. Congratulations, Allen.

We think too that a word of congratulations to the Newmarket branch of the Legion would not be amiss. Their sponsorship of the contest should be encouraged.

We have heard it said that the weather has never been quite the same since the government took it over, a fable which takes on the ring of bitter truth when one looks at the dwindling coal pile in the basement. Pollution of Holland river

Citizens were told by several candidates at Newmarket nominations that one of the pressing problems for 1950 was the construction of a sewage disposal plant. The absence of action on such a project so far may have dulled the memory of these statements or minimized their importance. If such be the case, we submit here the highlights of a report made by provincial department of health officers on pollution of the Holland River.

Samples were taken from the river from a point where the east branch crosses Yonge St. at the Aurora water works to a final sample at the locks at Holland Landing, 11 samples in all. Quoting from the report: "All samples show a high degree of pollution. The dissolved oxygen was generally low-too low to support any normal fish life in the stream. In fact the stream at several points was practically a nuisance."

With reference to the site of the final test, on the Thompson property at the Holland Landing locks, the report observed that natural purification "had proceeded to a point where conditions were beginning to improve. As the survey was made after a period of very dry weather (Sept. 15, 1949), there is every reason to believe that in times of normal flow, conditions must be even worse."

Again, quoting the report: "Conditions on this stream are such that remedial measures should be instituted without delay."

Newmarket is growing daily and the volume of sewage discharge into the river is correspondingly increasing. Steps are being taken to deal more effectively with the discharge of waste into the river. Newmarket, however, has yet to initiate any sort of action.

County levies doubled By Toronto annexation

Toronto cannot pay its way on its present assessment. That is why it has proposed amalgamation of the suburban municipalities. Other arguments are raised on behalf of amalgamation: the need of land for houses, more efficient police, fire and other municipal services. The municipalities involved have answered these arguments with counter-proposals which would provide the housing and services. Toronto has paid them little heed. It is being driven to amalgamation by its desperate need for more tax revenues.

If Toronto is permitted to absorb ten suburban municipalities and parts of two others, what of the rest of York county? The answer is given in a special report of the York county auditor. The municipalities which are left will have to pay at the very least double their present county levies to maintain a county administration. They will have to pay a good deal more to finance any special county project such as increased hospitalization, or reforestation programs.

Eighty-five percent of the county population and assessment is included in the area which Toronto proposes to annex. York county's 1950 budget is $1,460,000 and revenue is $200,000. After annexation, a minimum budget of $404,585 would be required against an expenditure, on present levy of $17,800. In other words, while assessment and population would be decreased by 85 percent by annexation, expenditures would not be decreased proportionately. Toronto needs the suburbs to increase its own tax revenue. The price of this benefit to Toronto is doubled county taxation among the remaining municipalities and a reduction in status to that of a "poor" county. Toronto could have avoided its present plight if the provincial and municipal administrations had had the foresight to limit its growth instead of encouraging it. Now Newmarket, Aurora and the rest of the municipalities outside of Toronto's clutch are being asked to pay double their present levies so that Toronto can be relieved of its financial embarrassment.

The pity of it is that if Toronto is successful, and we sincerely hope it is not, this is going to be repeated. If Toronto's growth is still further encouraged by approval of amalgamation, in another 20 years, what is left of the county will again be reduced with a corresponding increase again in county levies. With a belief in the success of their present amalgamation proposal, Toronto's planners are already rewriting their master plan to make it so.

Federation Criticized

We have no comment to make upon the criticisms of the Federation of Agriculture policy which appear in a letter printed in this issue of The Era and Express.

Some of the criticisms parallel those we have raised. With other criticisms contained in the letter, we disagree entirely. To avoid misunderstanding among our readers, however, we should like to restate our attitude towards the Federation.

We believe the Federation of Agriculture is a good organization for farmers. We believe every farmer should be a member. We support its growth because the farmer needs such an organization to present the farm point of view, because it has accomplished a good deal for the farmer already and is in the best position, of all farm organizations, to do still more.

We do not feel, however, that this support of the Federation of Agriculture commits us to automatic endorsation of all federation policies and decisions. The federation is, after all, a public body and no more immune to error than any other public body. It could, with the best of intentions, commit the worst of mistakes. Criticism of federation policies should never be confused with criticism of the existence of the federation any more than criticism of the government should be confused with criticism of the existence of governments.

The criticisms contained in the letter, as strong as they are, do not constitute a valid reason for refusing to join or support the federation. Whether its policies are right or wrong, the farmers need the federation. If you believe federation policy is wrong, join it and do what you can to correct its policies. If you believe federation policy is right, support it.

Conservation report

The select committee of the provincial house on conservation presented its report three weeks ago. The timing was too perfect to be all coincidence; since the report appeared with its recommendations for flood control, for holding water on the land, reducing erosion, maintaining water tables-some 87 major recommendations in all-Ontario has been swept by floods which in some districts, set new records in height and damage.

Elsewhere in this issue there is a summary of the highlights of the report which have immediate application to this area. They appear under three headings, reforestation, farm conservation and control of water resources. The report would encourage reforestation in waste areas such as are found to the east and west of Newmarket, suggests a system of demonstration farms where the techniques of holding water on the land and preventing soil erosion can be shown, urges the establishment of local authorities such as the proposed Holland River Conservation Authority.

Although the report was prepared by men who are farmers or who are in close contact with farmers, we doubt if all their recommendations will be immediately accepted. That is less important, to our way of thinking, than that the spirit in which the report was prepared be acknowledged by all. In the concluding paragraph of the report, the committee says: "The hope of this committee is that Ontario will accept a conservation program worthy of the name while yet there is time, and that we may show our intelligence and vision by taking action before, rather than after the event, so that desperate emergency measures of reclamation and rehabilitation may never become necessary in this province."

Nature has clearly shown, in the realm of flood control and water conservation if no other place, how necessary it is that a conservation policy be inaugurated. The report, however comprehensive, will serve little purpose if its recommendations are not given the test of practice. If they are wrong, they can be corrected. But let there at least be an immediate start on a provincial conservation policy.

Poverty profession

Last week, a letter to the editor drew attention to the reference made by a member of the provincial legislature to teaching as "a poverty profession".

Teachers' salaries are not high when the importance of their job is remembered. There is general recognition of this fact. What limits remedial action is the manner in which school salaries are paid.

A teacher is considered as a municipal employee and his salary is paid from municipal taxes. When tax revenues are limited, salaries are limited. Provincial grants assist the payment of teachers, but fundamentally, a teacher is paid according to the willingness and ability of a municipality or school section.

The teacher is one of the most important influences in a child's life. Unless improved salaries can be provided, either by higher taxes or grants, the inevitable logic of a "poverty profession" will prevail: our children will simply not have the teaching they should.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat reports

Catnips By Ginger

There have been many theories about why the clock on the post office tower stopped. Some said that it was through neglect in winding. A few claim it was caused by the explosion of atom bombs in Russia. I say a pidgeon laid an egg in the works.

When I came to the office Monday morning I looked up and saw the hands at 2.40. My friend the merchant was sweeping off his sidewalk. He stopped, squinted at me through his bifocals and said, "See that clock up there?"

"It's stopped," said I. "It is an evil omen," he said. "The last time it happened I developed stomach ulcers and there were new uprisings in Asia. When the clock stops it is an evil sign. I fear something drastic or gastric is about to happen." "Fret not, old fruit," says I.

"You are revealing an unwarranted belief in silly superstition. Superstition belongs to the dark ages. You should not let yourself be worked up by harboring such childish tricks of the mind." "I'm convinced that it was the work of the supernatural," said the congenial manic depressive. "Maybe it was the spirit of some old Newmarket citizen who lived long ago. Maybe something was done here he didn't like, a bad bylaw maybe, and he has returned to vent his wrath. Possibly it was a historical figure in ghost form." "Such as whom?"

"Sir Benjamin slept here once. Maybe that's whom."

"Well, can't think of what he looked like but maybe he did have a face which would stop a clock. He only stayed over night though and I can't think

why historians put so much stock in his visit here anyway,

Can you tell me that?" "I dunno. Can't think wha he really did but his name sounds genuinely historical Can you tell me?"

Sir Benjamin was abandoned

So my friend the merchan and I decided to inspect the clock personally. We climbed up inside through a trap door All we could see were gear and axles but we didn't hear's much as a rasp from Sir Ben jamin's ghost. It was windy cold and dreary up in that tow tower. I had a feeling the merchant was nervous. Suddenly every hair on oug

Stormed in on the farm in winter, we have a chance to observe how smart our stock is Our six cats sit in a row while the cows are being milked. As soon as we start to strip the cow at the last of the milking, our cats start to give voice.

They are a little out of tune at times. They have not had the training they should have had. We cannot hope to compete with Isabel's cats. Her cats live in the house and sleep on silk cushions while the best our cats get is the straw behind the cows.

When we get the milk separated and take the skim milk through the feed room to the pig pen, we hear all the notes of the chromatic scale from low to high C.

Then the veal calf breaks loose and nurses all the cows in the line and there is a real chase to get it tied up again.

We had a family of black squirrels in our barn and pheasants fed in the yard in the winter but since the neighbor boy bought a gun, they both have left. We have to put hay out for the rabbits to eat instead of our young apple trees. By the books of the rabbits' tracks, they must hold a convention around the building every night.

The snow plow goes through at night and the farmer does not hear it. The mail man does not leave the mail because the mail box is not clear. It is not nice to miss the mail in the country.

On the radio a young lady was trying to improve on the mule train song. The noise she made! If a mule ever heard a sound like that, it would start and bray like when mess call was blown in the army.

We had a nice little mule in our horse lines. No one knew where he came from. He was not on our strength. This mule would kick himself free of any harness ever put on him and roll himself clear of my medisaidle. Other than that he was a real nice mule.

He followed our musit nimes Every time we moved the bowl would trade this male in some French firmer for a few buttless of sour wine or a lay of Francis beer. The male always reports ed for feet in our home lines the next day with parts of the Frenchman's darness on him. Neille the hound ing, when

One night Pete stopped one. The night we stole the officers' beefsteak, we had a real feed. Coming in one night from working party one of the boys reported an English outfit down the trench had a dixie of meat. One boy went down the trench and as he passed by the cook house, grabbed a piece of beefsteak. The cook chased him down the trench. Two more set the dixie with meat on the top of the trench and from then on, no one knew what happened. We buried the dixle and ate the rest of the evidence.

We used the same system to get a phonograph but the joke was on us. It would not play. We buried it. I made one mistake in these stories—the word is "salvaged" not "stole". The soldier never "stole", always "salvaged". Cheerlo.

"Would you believe it?"

To extend and improve telephone service in Newmarket, it is taking over 2,000 miles of wire - and that's in addition to the thousands of miles already installed. Most of this wire will be out of sight underground, sheathed in sturdy, damage-resistant cable.

When all the work is finished, sometime in June, there will be telephone service for most of the families on our waiting list, as well as individual lines for many more.

Keeping up with the telephone demands of both town and country is a challenge we welcome, for our aim is to provide the best possible telephone service for all who want it, when and where they want it.

But there's one thing about "The Hasty Heart", when you see it you want to talk about it.

"The Hasty Heart" is the kind of picture that comes along with all those little things that become movie magic.

Those are the things that are hard to label. Laughter here, a tear there-a touch of something richly human all its own. Little things -and every now and then they blend into a picture big as Canada itself. Here are three fellows and a girl who will suddenly come to live in your heart. We know you will want to congratulate, as we do here, every member of the cast-Ronald Reagan, Patricia Neal and a great new star, Richard Todd.

We at the Strand theatre give you "The Hasty Heart" with the joy one takes in a special achievement-and the same pride we felt in presenting "Johnny Belin-

Conservation report Applies to conditions In North York

A select committee on conservation of the provincial legislature heard briefs, examined evidence, questioned farmers, lumbermen, sportsmen, tourist resort operators all last summer and into the fall. Three weeks ago, the committee tabled its report. Certain aspects of the report have an immediate bearing upon Newmarket, Aurora and district. A summary of these highlights follows:

A special meeting was held Monday night with the members of the fire and water committee of the town council and representatives of the volunteer fire brigade in attendance. The meeting was the result of a delegation which attended the regular session of town council on Monday, April 3. At the council meeting the fire department delegation requested that some immediate action be taken concerning the purchase of new equipment.

At Monday's meeting with the fire committee the fire department representatives explained the necessity of all the new equipment. The fire committee will present a report to council of the special meeting and it is expected the report will also contain a request for some immediate action to purchase the equipment for the fire department. Aurora Indians plan Dance to assist Hockey club's deficit

The Aurora Indians of the Trolley League are planning to hold a dance on Wednesday, April 19. The Indians, who finished fourth in the league and managed to snare the last playoff berth, floundered hopelessly at the gate this year.

The dance is being organized by Eric Smith, the goal keeper turned treasurer, and president Bert Mayrand. The entire proceeds of the affair, which has been named "The Sportsmen's Dance", will be used to remove some of the red ink in the Indians' books.

So far, the Indians have not turned to any person for help. They organized the team themselves and handled it throughout the season. Tickets will sell for 75 cents and the committee in charge has urged all sportsmen in Aurora to buy at least one tick-farm and highway. It helps us live better. For years Canadians have had to depend on foreign countries for almost all the oil they used. Now, after a long and costly search, big new fields have been found in Alberta. The more oil we produce right here in Canada the stronger we will be. Already the new discoveries have made thousands of new jobs. Millions of U.S. dollars once needed for imported oil are now being saved by the new oil fields, and the prairie consumers are saving money too. In order that Canadians may reap further benefits, Alberta oil must reach new markets. It must be moved to eastern Canada-2,000 miles away-where it must compete with oil from other areas. That means holding transport costs down to a minimum.

To bring Alberta oil east a tube of steel will span one-third of the continent-from Edmonton to Lake Superior. It is taking shape now. To carry the oil on to Ontario refineries, the largest inland tankers ever built are being constructed in Canadian yards.

There's a big job still to be done before the full benefits of the new oil discoveries reach all Canadians. But the job is being carried on with increasing benefit to all of us. Oil is strengthening the nation.

Bringing you oil is a big job ... and a costly one

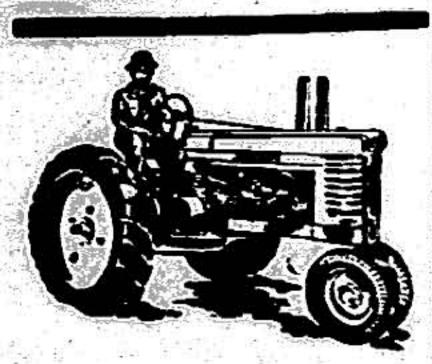

About Canada's Oil-Last year Canadians used an average of 300 gallons of oil each. This is more, per capita, than any nation except the United States.

By replacing imports, Canadian oil production is expected to save 100 million scarce U.S. dollars in 1950; next year, $145 millions.

Imperial is building a new refinery at Winnipeg at a cost of $10 millions to process Alberta Oil.

The 1,150-mile pipe line from Edmonton to Lake Superior is being built by Interprovincial Pipe Line Co., which was sponsored by Imperial and in which Imperial holds a minority interest.

Easter Sunday was observed at the Union church with the service at 11 o'clock. Mr. Harold Moddle delivered a most interesting Easter message. Special music was provided by the choir under the leadership of Mrs. G. P. Wood.

The evening service was largely attended. Mrs. E. Duchin of Weston sang a splendid solo. The play, "The Great Inheritance," was given by Misses Betty Sytema, Dorothy Ratcliff, Betty Hope, Messrs. David Preston, Stuart Starr and Howard Ash. The characters were: Abigail and Rhoda, two servants in the home of Tieza and Abdon. daughter-in-law and son of Hannah, whose late husband had left Abdon his earthly inheritance. He is visited by Nicodemus who brings news of Christ's activity in Jerusalem. Final news of Christs' resurrection in the last act is brought by Cleophas who has met Christ on the road to Emmans.

The interpretation of the characters was exceptionally well done and was a challenge to all present to do better work for Christ and the church.

The altar was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, plants and flowers.

On Sunday, April 16, Sundayschool will be held at 1.50 and church service at 2.30. Mr. James Hope has returned from hospital and is convalescing at home. Mr. and Mrs. John Pyle, Richmond Hill, and Miss Joyce Pyle, Toronto, spent the weekend with
